

The image shows the back of a yellow handheld electronic device. A black antenna is visible at the top. A black plastic hinge or latch mechanism runs vertically down the center. A white rectangular label is placed over the lower part of this mechanism. The device has several small circular indentations or screws on its back surface.

FCC
ID Label
location